What:

The Sports Museum of Los Angeles, open by invitation only, is the largest and broadest known collection of iconic sports memorabilia and collectibles in the world. It contains 10,000 artifacts collected over 25 years by Los Angeles businessman Gary Cypres. The collection valued in the millions include: Babe Ruth's 1934 uniform, Joe DiMaggio's record-breaking ball from his legendary 56-game hitting streak, and jerseys from NBA and NFL greats. On display is the 1941 Heisman Trophy awarded to Minnesota's Bruce Smith; the original cornerstone from Yankee Stadium in 1923, the first ball used at Ebbets Field (1913), and Fenway Park (1912), Gary Cooper's gray New York jersey worn when he portrayed Lou Gehrig in the movie "Pride of the Yankees".

About the Zimmer Children's Museum

The Zimmer Children's Museum is a nonprofit cultural institution located on Museum Row in Los Angeles, featuring hands-on exhibits for children ages 0-8 to explore BIG IDEAS in creative and inspiring settings.
